

2020 Annual Reports

Christian Education

In gathering information for the annual report on 2020, I came across an article I wrote in April where I used the quote “It feels hard because it is hard.” And guess what, still true! 2020 came with so many challenges that forced all of us to rearrange how we do life. We at Sixth Church have been navigating how we can do ministry virtually during the time of a pandemic and I want to thank everyone in our church family for their patience, support, and creativity as we try to move through this uncommon time together. As you can see from the length of this report (apologies to our faithful readers), we have done our best to provide ministry and educational opportunities despite not being able to gather in person.

While all of our programs and activities moved online mid-March, I want to first highlight a few things that happened early in the year.

Beginning in January, our Sunday school classes and youth group met weekly as usual and we offered nursery care and Extended Session during worship. Our children and youth actively participated in worship in multiple ways. These include serving as acolytes and water bearers, lighting peace candles, and being part of our lively Time for Children.

In January and February, I worked closely with staff, the Christian Education Committee and outside security professions in updating our church’s Emergency and Disaster Response Plan. We held training sessions for staff, teachers, and church leaders. Our plan identifies two evacuation meeting locations and outlines procedures to be used in case of an active shooter or building emergency. We created a form for a Children’s Individual Emergency and Lockdown Plan which identifies the needs of children and youth who have sensory, behavioral, or medical needs to be used in the case of an emergency event. We shared the updated safety plan with the congregation through the newsletter, church website, and a Minute for Mission during a worship service. We also held an emergency drill with the children during the Sunday school hour showing them where to go and what to do in case of a building evacuation.

In February, we held a listening session for members, parents, and volunteers to begin a re-visioning process for our children and youth ministries at Sixth Church. The session was held as a part of project I was working on as required course work for the Youth and Theology Certification from the Youth Institute of Princeton Seminary. Prior to the listening session, I created critical ministry objectives and the outline for a project called “FutureCasting” designed to help Sixth assess and reevaluate our ministry to children and youth. A survey was created to gather information from parents and congregation members and the listening session was held to respond to the information gathered. Unfortunately, the process was interrupted when we closed the church for in-person gatherings. Although I completed the year-long certification program in May, I look forward to picking up where we left off in that process. The next steps are to regroup and beginning working on the “next steps” we outlined during our session.

Since mid-March, Sunday school, youth group, and adult education classes have been meeting online using Zoom. I began recording videos for our Time for Children that can be used in our Sunday worship service that are either presented online, pre-rerecorded, or live streamed on YouTube. Some of our young people have been enlisted to help by appearing in Time for Children videos. Sunday school lessons and other resources are provided online each week on the Children and Youth blog. We delivered summer treat bags containing fun snacks, crafts, and at-home resources to families. In the fall we assembled more treat bags and included Communion elements for families to celebrate Worldwide Communion Sunday at home. Advent calendars and seasonal resources were sent out to families as well.

We presented our version of the Sunday School Christmas Pageant virtually using zoom and videos created by our kids.

In late spring I began working with church’s reopening task force and created plans and protocols to be used when we can resume in-person programs for children and youth. Our reopening plan for Christian Education was vetted by the Christian Education

Committee, the re-opening task force, and approved by the church session.

ADULT EDUCATION:

First and foremost, Bill Guy's Sunday school class continues to meet on Sundays for Bible study. The class examines books of the Bible in detail and in depth. Particular attention is paid to the way verses of the Bible have been translated or mis-translated from Hebrew and from Greek. Pastor Vincent continues to lead a weekly Wednesday Bible study that looks at the lectionary passages that will be used for the following Sunday's worship. Both groups have been meeting virtually since mid-March. We have had an amazing offering of Adult Education studies and discussions this year coordinated by Pastor Vincent. All the sessions from mid-March on were offered virtually. The following is a brief recap of what was offered by month:

January

- Our Water Campaign: Pastor Vincent shared the work of the Our Water Campaign in advocating for green infrastructure in the largest capital project in the history of southwestern Pennsylvania.
- A Witness from the Border: Led by Rabbi Jeremy Markiz, Associate Rabbi at Beth Shalom, who shared his experience of visiting detention and migrant centers as part of a Jewish witness called Truah this past fall.

February

- Our Criminal Justice System: With Public Defender Lisa Middleman who spoke on the on the current state of our penal system.
- Natural Earth Burial with Peter McQuillin and Laura Faessal discussing options for end of life.

March

- An update from Wilkesburg Community Ministries with Ruth Kittner. Ruth shared the particular challenges the Wilkesburg community currently is facing.
- PIIN in 2020 with Jamaal Craig sharing the upcoming work for the Pennsylvania Interfaith Impact Network: criminal justice reform, counteracting voter suppression, and turning out voters of conscience.
- Experience with the Criminal Justice System with Terri Minor Spencer, the Executive Director of P.O.W.E.R. (Providing Opportunities with Effective Resources) shared her work with returning citizens.

August

- Justice Core Team: Educational hour focusing on the proposed Statement Against White

September and October

- The Rationale for Single Payer Health Care with Retired physician Dr. Michael Schroering
- Free People Strike with Wilson Juring, son of Tom Juring and Mary Crossley, was injured in the altercation between Pittsburgh Police and demonstrators in East Liberty on June 1. He is now a plaintiff in the suit being brought against law enforcement working for the Free People Strike, a statewide movement to free as many of the 45,000 prisoners in PA who are locked up in close quarters in the middle of the pandemic.
- Book discussion on "Begin Again: James Baldwin's America and It's Urgent Lessons for Our Own" by Dr. Eddie S. Glaude, Jr.
- Rev. Karen Rohrer led a discussion on her collaborative work on the book "Sustaining Grace: Innovative Ecosystems for New Faith Communities." Dr. Alex Finley discussing her book "An Intimate Economy: Enslaved Women, Work, and America's Domestic Slave Trade."

November

Jenny Newman on behalf of the Christian Education Committee

Church and Community (C&C)

In 2020 members of C&C remained satisfied with the values we had endorsed in our 2019 allocation process and with the relative weights we had assigned to advocacy and direct assistance. Consequently, at our May meeting we agreed to retain the same overall balance established in 2019 allocating: 1) $500 to the Youth Group to be used as it saw fit, 2) 60% of the remainder to organizations engaged in advocacy for social change (with half of this to be distributed by C&C, and half by the four independent advocacy committees), and 3) 40% of the remainder to organizations engaged in direct assistance (with 25% of this going to a Rainy Day Fund for emergencies).

C&C members also were generally satisfied with the specific amounts contributed to organizations in 2019. Consequently, leaving aside organizations supported by our Rainy Day Fund, we agreed to assist the same organizations in the same percentages in 2020. Because the budget this year for locally directed missions was about 6% below the amount budgeted for 2019, there was a corresponding reduction in the amount allocated to each organization.

In light of the economic uncertainty caused by COVID-19, and in keeping with the guidance of Session, we agreed that our disbursements should be spread over the year so as not to strain the Church's cash flow. Also, per Session guidance, we agreed that most funds for direct assistance should be distributed first to reduce suffering. With these guidelines, C&C voted to distribute the funds in three disbursements, as described in the table below.

One adjustment we had to make this plan was to reallocate funds originally donated to New Sanctuary Pittsburgh, a faith-based organization devoted to protecting and supporting immigrants facing deportation. In early June 2020 we discovered that our 2019 check to New Sanctuary Pittsburgh had not been cashed and that the local organization had dissolved. In response, we voted at our June meeting to reallocate the New Sanctuary Pittsburgh funds from 2019 to New Sanctuary Movement Philadelphia, and to reallocate the New Sanctuary Pittsburgh funds for 2020 to Casa San Jose of Pittsburgh. Both organizations have strong records of important advocacy work on behalf of immigrants in our state. With that adjustment, we disbursed the funds as follows:

Disbursement and Primary Target	Funding Date	Amount	Percent of Total
First Disbursement – Funding for Groups Providing Direct Assistance	6-15	$10,028.67	33.6%
Second Disbursement – C&C Advocacy Organizations, Rainy Day Fund, and Reallocation of 2019 New Sanctuary Pittsburgh Funding	9-15	$11,613.65	38.9%
Third Disbursement – Independent Advocacy Committees (Earth Care, Gun Safety, Justice Core Team, and More Light)	10-1	$8,238.55	27.5%
Total		$29,880.87	100.0%

Rainy Day Fund

Our Rainy-Day allocations were made in accordance with our decision in 2019 to use these funds for urgent and extreme need in response to a local, national, or global disaster. Additionally, we were guided by three considerations:

- We saw this moment as a call to address the intersectionality between racism, poverty, and the pandemic that defines this moment in the history of our country and of the world.
- We saw this as an opportunity to join in the work of our sisters and brothers in faith.
- We felt the need to address the effects of the pandemic at every geographic level: local, national, and global.

Because these considerations led us to fund three organizations that we had not previously supported, we want to share brief descriptions of these groups.

The Critical Community Needs Fund (CCNF) of the POISE Foundation of Pittsburgh - POISE is a Pittsburgh community foundation all of whose trustees, and almost all of whose senior staff, are African American. POISE has created the CCNF to provide support to small, Black-led organizations responding to critical needs in Pittsburgh's Black community as the result of the pandemic. Its seven primary focus areas are life-sustaining needs, mental health, faith-based organizations, urban gardening in Black communities, Black business associations and CDCs, information dissemination, and bridging the digital divide for families and seniors.

Presbyterian Disaster Assistance (PDA) is one of the mission agencies of the Presbyterian Church USA. Native American communities have been especially hard hit by COVID-19 and PDA has awarded $50,000 to presbyteries that are engaged in meaningful partnerships with Native American Communities and can respond to the pandemic. Our donation will be targeted to support this work by the presbyteries, which include the those of the Grand Canyon, Dakota, Wyoming, South Louisiana, and Northwest Coast.

The Coronavirus Relief Fund of Church World Service (CWS) - CWS, which C&C has supported directly and which the congregation supports through the CROP Walk, has created a Coronavirus Relief Fund which CWS seeks to raise $1.75 million in 2020 and $1 million in 2021. A large proportion of the funds will be used across the United States where CWS provides a continuum of services to newly arrived refugees, asylum seekers, and migrant farm workers. The largest amounts of the Fund will be used for rental and other financial assistance across the U.S. (40%), expansion of global hunger and poverty fighting (23%), refugee resettlement offices in the US (14%), and migrant and refugee support globally (11%).

Each of these entities received 25% of the Rainy-Day Fund. The remaining 25% was donated to 412 Food Rescue of Pittsburgh and supplemented the amount C&C gave through its regular allocation process.

Independent Advocacy Committees

As noted earlier, we allocate half of our advocacy budget, or 30% of the amount given to C&C for locally directed missions, to the four independent advocacy committees of Sixth Church: The Justice Core Team, the Gun Safety Committee, the Earth Care Committee, and the More Light Committee. Each of these groups has established its own process for deciding what groups these committees will support. The table below shows how the independent committees allocated their funds.

Organization	Amount	Organization	Amount
Justice Core Team:		Natural Resources Defense Council	$300.00
Pennsylvania Interfaith Impact Network (PIIN)	$2,119.26	PASUP - Pittsburghers Against Single-Use Plastic	$100.00

C&C Programming During 2020

Because of the COVID-19 pandemic, programming opportunities were more limited in 2020 than in past years. However, on March 4 C&C co-sponsored – together with Amnesty International Pittsburgh and Pennsylvanians for Alternatives to the Death Penalty – the program “17 Years, 8 Months, & 1 Day on Death Row.” Our speaker was Juan Roberto Melendez, who told the inspiring story of hope and survival about the nearly two years he spent on death row for a crime he did not commit.

Summary of C&C Giving

The following table summarizes C&C’s allocation of funds through its committee process, including the Rainy Day Fund. We are deeply grateful for the 2020 pledges of Sixth Church members and friends, which made these donations possible.

Earth Care

As is the case for most groups, 2020 put a damper on Earth Care Committee (ECC) activities, with many of us left only to explore our at-home environment. I'm grateful, however, for the activities and functions were still carried out.

In February, Pete McQuillin and Laura Faessel from Penn Forest Natural Burial Park visited Sixth to share more about their burial park and cemetery and about the process of green burial, which is a much more natural and easy-on-nature alternative to traditional burial methods. In addition to burial grounds, Penn Forest, located in Verona, is also a nature preserve and site for nature enthusiasts.

As our building remains closed, many at Sixth have probably had certain hard-to-recycle items pile up. I don't have any impressive recycling stats to share this year, however I expect there will be a glut of recycling once we finally convene again.

For Earth Day in April (the occasion's 50th anniversary), we had plans to invite local environmentalist and educator Maren Cooke to present at Sixth. Plans were also being made to host Cricket Hunter from Pennsylvania Interfaith Power and Light, an organization of faith communities responding to climate change. Alas, these plans had to be scrapped! However, I am thankful to Leslie Kaplan, Greg Winner, and others at Sixth and in the community who worked with Tree Pittsburgh and other groups to obtain and plant a chinquapin oak tree on the church grounds in recognition of the 50th Earth Day.

Additionally, Pittsburghers and some from Sixth still had the chance to recognize Earth Day and learn more about environmental issues at the virtual Earth Week Pittsburgh event.

As part of Sixth's outreach mission and in collaboration with the Church and Community Committee, the ECC was able to select various environmental groups to receive funding. In 2020, Sixth's ECC supported a diverse mix of local, regional, and national environmental groups: PennEnvironment, the Group Against Smog and Pollution (GASP), the Natural Resources Defense Council (NRDC), the Audubon Society of Western Pennsylvania, Pittsburghers Against Single-Use Plastic (PASUP), and Recycle this PGH. My thanks to all who helped in choosing these great groups.

Respectfully submitted,

Keith Gillogly, chair

Fellowship

The Fellowship Committee has basically been inactive since the church closed in March. Our last event was the Pancake Supper on Tuesday, February 25.

We have had Zoom meetings as a committee on Sundays at 1 pm on five occasions; in addition we had two outdoor “meetings.” The purpose of all of these was social, and to listen to and support each other.

We look forward to opportunities to once again plan and execute meals as what we lovingly refer to as “God’s Catering Service.”

Respectfully submitted,

Jan Myers-Newbury, co-chair

Gun Safety Committee

Active Committee Members: Judy Schryer, Joan Gaul, Vincent Kolb, Diana Wood, Cliff Johnson, Norma and Jack Farquhar, Myra Kazanjian, Maggie Ritchey, Alice Scales, Lori King, Lori Swensson, chair.

Also attending as often as possible: Rob Conway of CeaseFirePA.

The Committee held its first and only meeting on January 26, 2020. Unfortunately, the COVID shutdown prevented any further in-person meetings.

At that meeting we set our goals:

- to join with others in our community also working for gun safety (in the belief that numbers count when lobbying legislators),
- to show those affected by gun violence that we care.

In the works were (and still are) plans to support CeaseFirePA as it lobbies our Pennsylvania legislators to support gun safety measures. We have prepared a “Moment for Mission” to explain ERPO (Extreme Risk Prevention Orders) to our congregation. ERPO is the first of two issues CeaseFirePA plans to focus on. The second is passing legislation concerning mandatory reporting of Lost and Stolen guns.

Other actions taken by the committee:

- Communicated to Mike Turzai, Speaker of the PA House of Representatives, urging him to push the House Judiciary Chair to move ERPO and Universal Background Checks legislation out of his committee. And reminding Speaker Turzai of the Parkland anniversary and the need for gun safety legislation.
- Signed on to the CeaseFirePA amicus brief supporting the City of Harrisburg’s right to establish firearms ordinances.
- Participated in the CeaseFirePA webinar concerning how people can use their shopping to help prevent gun violence.
- Submitted our decision on gun safety organizations we wish to support with an allocation of funds: CeaseFirePA $750.
- Moms Demand Action $625.
- Black Women for Positive Change $625.

As COVID precaution measures and vaccinations continue and meetings become possible again, we will resume our work toward gun safety, especially at the state level. The gun-involved murder rate in many cities has increased and events of last week at our nation’s capitol remind us this work needs to be done! We welcome others in our congregation to join with us in this committee.

Respectfully submitted,

Lori Swensson, chair

House

It was admittedly a relatively tame year in 2020 for the House Committee, with COVID slowing, if not preventing, many things, but here's what did occur:

CAPITAL PROJECTS UPDATE

Tremendous thanks to everyone who has pledged and contributed to the Capital Campaign fund for Sixth Presbyterian Church! You may remember that we have already completed the Kitchen renovation, the Ridinger Room ceiling, second floor accessibility improvements, ramp repair, sanded and painted all the outside black metal railings, and completed significant concrete work: paved the back patio, replaced a quarter of the front steps, and part of the wall along the street.

Here is a rundown of this year's Capital Project accomplishments:

Renovation of the Accessibility Ramp: The outside ramp had deteriorated with holes, cracks and disintegrating block. Mariani and Richards completely repaired and restored the ramp, replacing many of the concrete blocks and re-caulking the ramp surface. The cost was $4,480.

Fire Safety Project: The church signed a contract in May with Stanley Security for installation of the Fire Safety Project. This project includes emergency pull stations at every door (hardwired with wifi reporting) smoke and heat detectors, sirens and/or strobe light alarms in most rooms and a computerized monitoring system of the equipment and any alarms thru the phone lines. The company then drew up detailed technical plans and submitted them for review with the City and then the State. This took unbelievably long, compounded by slowdowns due to COVID-19. We just heard that our project has been approved by the State, and Stanley is waiting to receive the permit. Installation will begin in early February. The price is: $46,331.28 due upon completion. There will be an additional quarterly monitoring fee of $78.99 which will be paid out of the church's operating budget.

Stained Glass Windows: The second stained glass window was completed this summer. It is the large, four-lancet window in the middle of the east wall of the sanctuary. The completion included a new protective, vented glass covering and scraping and painting of the outside wooden filigree and casing. In order to remove the old protection and do this work safely, we had to get Duquesne Light to place a covering over the electrical service lines that come into the church between window 2 and 3. Due to the difficulty of getting this done (several months wait and many phone calls) we decided to also address the outside needs of window 3 at the same time- removing the old cover, scraping, painting, and putting up a new metal framework and tempered glass. This third, two-lancet window was removed for restoration this fall. Expenditures for 2020 included full payments for windows one and two, and partial payment for window three, totaling $86,250.

The sanctuary window restoration project will take several more years. We plan to complete the other remaining Capital Campaign work in 2021. Peter Koehler is planning the improvements to the chapel and there are a few second floor access items remaining. If you have any questions or suggestions, please contact Leslie Kaplan at bezbeads@verizon.net.

Charitable Contributions: In June, charitable contributions were made to the following organizations based on the congregations contributions made to the capital campaign fund in 2019:

- Wilkinsburg Community Ministry, $ 3,566.62
- Clean Air Council, $ 3,566.62
- Pittsburgh United, $ 3,566.62

EXTERIOR

- The lightning strike damage to the stone work last year that was contracted in late 2019 was completed early in the year

- Back in February, Tree Pittsburgh granted the Squirrel Hill Urban Coalition a tree as part of their greater celebration of the 50th anniversary of Earth Day, and the Urban Coalition asked to plant the tree in the yard at Sixth. While a whole ceremony and fanfare were intended for a planting on the anniversary itself, COVID prevented that from actually occurring. But we still got the tree! We arranged a date in May, and a crew from Tree Pittsburgh came out, as did Leslie Kaplan and myself, along with Mardi Isler from the Urban Coalition, and we planted a chinquapin oak near the driveway on Forbes.
- During the unrest over the summer, one of the handrails up the stairs of the main Forbes was damaged. Contractors repaired the handrail and the concrete around it.
- Murray Avenue-side door lock was rebuilt after keys wouldn't turn in it.

INTERIOR

- An electrician made a number of improvements around the building
- Replaced four old outlets along the back wall of the sanctuary
- Installed an outlet in the narthex to power the hearing aid chargers
- Replaced the GFCI outlet and weather housing on the front yard sign
- Lowered the light switch in the 2019-renovated upstairs bathroom
- Installed an outlet on the ceiling of the same bathroom to permit the door opener to be permanently powered
- Damage in a corner of the wall in the narthex that was causing a leak was repaired.
- The fan in the Ridinger Room that long had the "do not use heater" sign upon it got a new motor and switches, and now works again.

VERIZON-RELATED EVENTS

In late August, a drain line from one of Verizon's AC units clogged and subsequently soaked the Groom's Room floor with condensate. A Verizon tech was dispatched to clear the drain and stop the water leak. The old carpeting was removed and fans were set up to dry the area as quickly as possible. Remittances for repairs are being handled via Verizon's online landlord portal, where invoices can be submitted. To date, a mold remediator has sanitized the subfloor to ensure mold will not begin growing in the wood and new carpet once it is installed. The mold remediation invoices have been submitted, but not remitted, as yet.

In late May, Verizon informed us that they intended to make upgrades to their equipment and were proposing new terms to the leasing contract which would decrease the monthly rent we would receive. Aside from two different offers from Verizon, we were also contacted by two site management companies offering us alternative terms. Ultimately, the Session agreed to the deal offered by Unison Site Management: a 50-year lease in exchange for a one-time lump sum payment. Contracts are being finalized now and will go into effect in early 2021. Under this new arrangement, Verizon will remain the occupant of the bell tower, under Unison's management.

COVID-RELATED ACTIONS

- The building was closed in mid-March for worship and other use beyond staff occupancy and niche uses (e.g., voting). Since then, weekly services have been pre-recorded or live-streamed.
- Several air purifiers were purchased for use in office spaces
- During the annual inspection, the filters in the furnaces were replaced with higher-efficiency filters.
- Inquiries to two different HVAC contractors have been made for modifications to the furnaces. As of writing, both are still in the planning phase.
- Installation of humidifiers to elevate the humidity of the air entering the sanctuary
- Installation of switches to allow the furnace blowers to operate continuously

UPDATES FROM PETER KOEHLER

- I replaced the defective photocell switches that control the two outside lights at the Forbes Ave. entrance.

- I located instructions on the web for the timer switch that controls the light over the Murray Ave. entrance door and the two lights on the sides of the steps leading up to that door. With those instructions I reprogrammed the timer switch to work properly.
- With help from you and Kirk Howe I ran a video cable through the crawlspace underneath the sanctuary from the back of the sanctuary to Amy's office for sharing the church services on the internet.
- On election day I replaced the defective flood light bulbs above the handicap ramp to make it safe for voters to use the ramp after dark.

MISCELLANY

- A couple times over the summer, volunteers from the Asian Pacific American Labor Alliance and Casa San Jose used the yard to distribute masks and cash assistance to minority locals burdened by the pandemic.
- Sixth was a polling location on 03 November 2020. Interior access to voters was restricted to only necessary locations to limit any potential contamination spread and the occupied area was professionally sanitized the next day.
- Boy Scout Troop 3945 expressed interest in moving from Morningside VFW to Sixth. Details are still being arranged and no meetings would occur until the building is reopened.

Respectfully submitted,

Greg Winner, chair, and the House committee: Leslie Kaplan and Peter Koehler

More Light

Sixth has had a robust and joyful presence at Pittsburgh's summer Pride events for many years, but this, as in so many other ways, was a year like no other. (Thanks, COVID.) The More Light Committee looks forward to opportunities in 2021 to join with others in our community and celebrate, in the streets, the gift of LGBTQ+ lives.

Session affirmed the More Light Committee's recommendation that the portion of the Capital Campaign dedicated to Sixth's More Light mission be channeled to SistersPGH annually, until such time as the Capital Campaign ends (2022). Session also supported the Church + Community Committee's recommendation that its funds for Sixth's committee-mission areas be distributed to the Persad Center, That All May Freely Serve, and Sisters of Perpetual Indulgence. We've recommended that Celeste Scott, a principal leader in SistersPGH be invited to do a Sunday School hour so that we can strengthen our ties to this organization and its work.

The Reverend Alex McNeill, Executive Director of More Light Presbyterians, will join us in worship at such time as the country's health situation allows. Reverend Dr. Vincent Kolb and Reverend Myra Kazanjian led Sixth's observation, as part of virtual worship service in November, of the Transgender Day of Remembrance.

In December, Sixth supported a proposal from Erik Schuckers, University of Pittsburgh, for In Our Own Write, a pilot program at Pitt for a series of online writing workshops where LGBT+ elders can turn their personal histories/experiences into "work that moves, challenges, or provokes reflection....Illuminating aspects of the LGBT experience of community."

Kit Ayars, chair

- Average Pledge: $3,183.81 down from 2020's Average Pledge of $3,289.34
- Total Pledges: 99 (including 5 new) down from 2020's Total Pledges of 103

Commentary: Given the congregation's inability to worship and meet at Sixth Church in person, the Stewardship Committee commends Sixth's ability to "just miss" our 2021 Stewardship Pledge Goal. We hope by the end of 2021 our Stewardship Pledge Goal will be our Stewardship Pledge Actual.

Worship

Soon after celebrating Epiphany and Baptism of the Lord in January, we began to hear about a new virus, COVID-19, making an appearance in the U.S. Shortly after celebrating the second Sunday of Lent on March 8th, COVID-19 was declared a Global Pandemic.

After consulting with medical experts, we heeded their recommendation that we immediately suspend gathering in the sanctuary for worship, as of March 15, 2020, until it was safe to do so.

The worship committee greatly appreciated the work of, and consultation with, the Re-opening Task Force that was created to research, create, and provide informed guidance and guidelines for resuming public worship. With ongoing review by session and worship committee, it was not yet deemed safe to resume in-person worship for the remainder of 2020.

However, meaningful worship continued! Thanks to the ingenious, creative efforts of our pastor, Vincent, our musician, Gail Luley, our Children and Youth Minister, Jenny Newman, our office administrator and zoom expert, Amy Whipple, and our videographer/technician/musician/engineer/lighting and sound expert, Kirk Howe. Online worship was provided, first as recorded worship services, then gradually as live-stream (and recorded) worship services. The purchase of necessary video, electrical, and sound equipment were recommended by the worship committee for this purpose and approved by session.

Several choir members and church members volunteered as singers and liturgists for these services. Masks were worn and social distancing practiced. Joan Markert even custom-made masks especially for singers. Children were able to participate in creating a magnificent version of the annual Christmas Pageant remotely!

The creative efforts it has taken by many to make sure our congregation continues to have the opportunity to worship has been greatly appreciated.

Respectfully submitted,

Pamela Bower, chair, and the Worship committee: Pam Howe, Pam Twiss, Verna Robinson, Gail Luley, Jenny Newman, Vincent Kolb, and Kirk Howe (honorary member).

Whew! Made it! Did you actually read the reports? Our committees work hard throughout the year to do their best by Sixth – and the chairs to write these reports – so you should probably go back and read them if you didn't. You're great!
